Letter of Recommendation for Tejas Ghadge

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing on behalf of Hack49, an esteemed hackathon that brings together highly talented developers, designers, and entrepreneurs from around the world. Hack49, accessible via hack49.com, is a competitive, fast-paced event where participants develop innovative solutions to real-world challenges under stringent time constraints.

We select judges at Hack49 based on the criteria of distinguished industrial expertise in field of software development, proven track record for professional achievements, contribution to innovation and prior experience to evaluate high impact projects. Tejas Ghadge's participation to our judging panel was based on his 13+ years of distinguished experience at Amazon where he launched cutting edge public facing products, has received patents for innovation and has vast experience evaluating most innovative projects launched for their customers.

Throughout the competition, Tejas Ghadge demonstrated exceptional analytical skills, determined applicability in real world, evaluated innovation as well as technical depth for presented projects. Hack49 participants many of whom came from renowned public and private universities across the world received Tejas Ghadge's valuable feedback and mentoring that was well appreciated, and will help participants to apply the learnings in future and grow professionally. Overall, Tejas Ghadge's contributions played a significant role to identify the most impactful ideas as part of Hack49 competition and we were able to maintain a high technical bar for the duration of competition.
